The English Folk Dance and Song Society*

some of the pieces herself. Also performing will be the Hampshire Regency Dancers, Garston Gallopers, Alton Morris, Mayfly Morris and local school children demonstrating Maypole dancing. There will be talks and book signings from historian, author and TV presenter Lucy Worsley and a Q&A with Pride & Prejudice actor Adrian Lukis, aka Mr Wickham. N.B. entry to the fair is by ticket only. More information about this and Steventon's other Jane Austen anniversary events is here.

Good to know there are still things we can celebrate in these very 'interesting' times!

An item not included in our dance dairy as there is relatively little information on it: on the 1st June Friends of English Dance are running an Afternoon of Dance at The Jurgens Centre, Englefield Green, Egham, TW20 0QR (the same location as the regular Sunday Afternoon Contra Dances). Starting at 2.30, the dance will be led by Brooke Friendly with musicians 'Box of Frogs' (Linda Game and Ali Messer) and will finish at 5.30. Brooke will have just finished a series of workshops and dances at the Chippenham Folk Festival, and FED have seized the opportunity for her to call at one of their events before she returns to the United States. Ticket prices are £15 for the afternoon, £13 for members of FED. There is no mention of how to pay, so it might be worth taking cash to pay on the door.

Friends of English Dance are building a directory to replace, in effect, the one which Chris Turner ran under the umbrella of the 'Set and Turn Single' organisation. I note that the number of dance clubs and organisations like FASH included in the directory is slowly growing, also the list of dance callers and musicians/bands. If you belong to a dance club which is not included, or are a musician or caller, do consider adding the names and contact details to the directory. You will need to register to add a listing, but there is no charge. Their website can be found at <https://friendsofenglishdance.org.uk/>.

The continued very dry spell may be causing problems to the gardeners among us, but it had the advantage that the sports field at Evesham's De Montfort School was dry enough to be used for parking caravans and motorhomes/campervans both at the recent May Heydays festival and earlier, over Easter, the Camping and Caravan Club's Weekend organised by the Wessex section of their Folk Dance and Song Group.

Having attended May Heydays, I thought it went very well; we thoroughly enjoyed it. As well as the English and American dance sessions and workshops, the organisers have retained an International dance section to continue the tradition inherited from the Eastbourne International Festival. "International" this year included a couple of French workshops with Peter Clifton, who also led two Eurobals; there were two Scandi workshops and two Argentine Tango sessions. Also added were a couple of story-telling workshops led by Daisy Black, singing events and even African drumming and singing sessions. I have to admit, I did not attend Mike Courthold's 'Heavy Metal Contra' evening.

Inevitably there were one or two niggles in the smooth running of things; probably the most serious was the non-appearance of the food van on Monday lunchtime. Sadly, catering at May Heydays does not always seem to run quite as smoothly as it might.

Much of the 2026 May Heydays has already been arranged with quite a few bands and callers already confirmed. The dates will be the 1st to the 4th of May and flyers are already available. However, Mecki Testroet, festival director, warned that Monty Crook, who has always done a huge amount of behind the scenes work, is proposing to retire. She believes that if three, maybe even four, volunteers come forward to take over all that he did, then the 2027 festival will run. Otherwise it will not. So.... if you believe you could help, and it seems unlikely you would need to live in the Evesham area, contact Mecki as soon as possible via the contact details on the website <https://mayheydays.org.uk/>.

So, what next for dancers? The Chippenham Folk Festival will have been on the bank holiday weekend of May, then the first full weekend in June will be the annual Stonesfield Dance Weekend, a few miles from Woodstock. Two weeks later the Lichfield Folk Dance Festival takes place, which this year includes a Regency evening dance.

Our dance diary is starting to shrink as we approach the summer, with a couple of the clubs which meet weekly or twice monthly stopping in June and another couple closing for the break in July. The folk clubs and arts centres are still fairly active at the moment, but as usual, few will meet in August.

A couple of festivals to mention: while not as big as the festival in Salisbury used to be, there is a small one day festival this year, to be held for the second year in the grounds of The Rifles Berkshire and Wiltshire Museum (58 The Close, SP1 2EX.) on the 7th June. Details can be found on the website www.thewardrobe.org.uk/whats-on/folk-festival. Tickets are £12 adult and £6 for a junior, available via the website.

The following day, in the same location, although curiously not included on the Museum's website, there is a Salisbury Family Folk Festival, aimed particularly at younger people and their families. Details can be found on the Festival Facebook page, or on the FASH website. Tickets are available from Emily Askew on em_askew@yahoo.co.uk.

Waterlooville is holding a music festival from the 11th to the 14th June; folk music will feature on the Friday evening which is their 'Folk and Ale Night' with Magpie Lane. The event will take place at St George's Church, and tickets are available via the website

Interestingly, according to our archives, from the late '70s to the mid-90s Waterlooville held an annual 'Folklore' event. It started out as a weekend festival with displays, music and dance, but later became a "Folk Day" with a ceilidh in the precinct in the daytime and another in the Community Centre in the evening. Sadly, there seems to be little record of it after 1997.

The display sides diary is much longer as several sides have published their programmes since our last issue of 'Solent Waves'. I can find no published information for a few sides, and where there are just one or two entries for this month in the diary above, it is usually because I have inferred the information from another side's programme.

The Folk Association of South Hants held its AGM on the 18th May. We are pleased to report that the organisation is in a comfortable position financially and a copy of the minutes from the meeting, together with the several officers' reports and the statement of accounts will all be available on the FASH website in due course.

'SOLENT WAVES' is published 10 times a year, by the Folk Association of South Hants (FASH). Any views expressed are those of the contributor and not necessarily those of FASH, its officers, or the Editor. Solent Waves cannot guarantee the accuracy of Diaries or other entries, but we hope there are few errors. It can be sent by email in pdf format each month; just email the editor if you wish to be added to the mailing list

You can of course advertise with us; our advertising rates are given below. The figures in brackets are for individual FASH members. Ideally let us have copy in electronic form (e.g. .doc, .gif, .jpg or .pdf), but we can work with hardcopy or you can tell us in words what you wish to advertise and we can design for you.

We would remind you that if you wish to advertise events this summer, there is no separate August issue of 'Solent waves', so any which are to take place during August, or in the early part of September will need to be included in the next issue, the July one.
